LANDMARK LIVE

November is shaping up to be a busy time for music lovers at Landmark Center! Starting out the season on November 14th, is Kiss the Tiger. This group of five, fronted by lead singer Megan Kreidler, has made a name for themselves in the twin cities and beyond over the past few years. Their third full length album, Infinite Love, was released on September 12th, and since the release, they've been touring the country, but are making their way back home to Minnesota.

After an unfortunate thumb injury left her unable to perform on October 10th, we're pleased to announce that Davina Sowers is rescheduled to perform on November 21st. The pure talent of Davina Sowers of Davina and the Vagabonds is captivating as it is, but this rare opportunity to witness a solo show from Davina should not be missed.

To end our Landmark Live season, we are delighted to have Chastity Brown perform on December 12th. Chastity's sound is a mix of jazz, blues, R&B, and folk. She cites the pandemic and witnessing the global racial reckoning as a turning point in her creative process, refocusing herself on writing. She's written about 100 songs since the release of her 2017 album Silhouette of Sirens. She settled on 10 of those 100 to create her most recent album Sing to the Walls, released in 2022.

All performances begin at 7:30 pm with a cocktail hour preceding at 6:45 pm. Advance single show and season tickets are available and can be purchased at ticketleap.com/landmarkcenter. Season tickets are $69.38 (includes fees) each and advance ticket sales for each performance are $27.32 (includes fees). Tickets can be purchased at the door for $30, depending on availability. For more information, please visit landmarkcenter.org/landmark-live or call 651.292.3063.

DR. MARK SEELEY PRESENTATION

To honor the 50th anniversary of the Edmund Fitzgerald sinking, climatologist and meteorologist Dr. Mark Seeley will present on the weather that caused the disastrous accident. The storm that sank the Edmund Fitzgerald on November 10, 1975 was one of the worst in Great Lakes weather history and is one of the most studied. Dr. Seeley will share perspectives on the storm from both the American and Canadian Weather Services and show the very treacherous conditions that eventually doomed the vessel. He will also share some thoughts on improvements in forecasting that have been made since that time. Join us Wednesday, November 12th at 12pm in Courtroom 317 for this free program and learn more about this landmark event in Minnesota history.
